MARY KATE BARTELL

Attalie Carnavali

Attalie Carnavali arrived at UD from New York and didn't immediately feel quite at home until she found WVUD. From that moment on, Attalie became a game changer for the radio station.

Starting as a typical student member, she quickly took on a leadership position as Program Director. As PD, she grew the fledgling Basement into its own quirky, vibrant brand (with record membership), while keeping the FM running smoothly as well.

Attalie was then thrust into the General Manager position due to the early graduation of her predecessor.

In the 2+ years that followed, Attalie continued to attract a variety of students to WVUD. She made them feel truly at home at the station.

Her creation of the student lounge and its popularity is a testament to members finding their home and 'their people' at WVUD.

Attalie Carnavali

Attalie was rewarded for her devotion to WVUD by being awarded the Grossman Award as the premiere student leader on campus. She truly gave WVUD far more than she received and is one of the most impactful members in the 50+ year history of the radio station.

Shelley Kelley/Michele McCann

Whether you know her as Michele McCann or Shelley Kelly, chances are that you recognize her as an integral part of the fabric of WVUD. For almost two decades (minus a brief sojourn out west), Michele has provided avid listeners with a masterfully crafted Java Time radio experience.

Additionally, she has formally served WVUD's interests as a long time Community Representative on the Operations Board. Informally, Michele was an important part of a small group of community volunteers that successfully worked with students and administration throughout a particularly complicated transition in University and radio station leadership.

Shelley Kelley/Michele McCann

A successful business woman and an accomplished, award winning musician, Michele/Shelley is a dedicated ambassador for the radio station, promoting it at appearances and helping to facilitate partnerships within the community. She truly brings life to her catch phrase 'WVUD-The Station that Loves You Back'

John Gardner

John Gardner's impact on WVUD is evident any time a copy of Dare to Be Loud or Dare to Be Louder is on display, but it goes much deeper than that. In addition to being the driving force behind engineering, producing, (and even performing on) those compilations, John was visible at WVUD in other prominent roles.

John Gardner

As our final student Technical Director, John had his hands in everything from Sports Production to training new students, to being active with the remote studio location on the Perkins concourse.

Additionally, he was part of two of the most successful student radio programs in recent memory. With his partner Michele Ingari, John co-hosted the Blue Hen Hot Seat public affairs show as well as the Rockaholics Anonymous music program.

John Gardner

John was always seen at WVUD with a big smile and a willing attitude to help out in whatever area might have needed his expertise. We are proud to welcome John into the WVUD Hall of Fame!
